

Training the Trainer

A web-based seminar

Thursday, March 23, 2017, 2:30 pm - 4:30 pm

Program Content:

Polish your training skills.

If you are responsible for training others, this is for you! Discover how to develop and deliver training that sticks. You will learn how to increase your personal impact, remove resistance to training, and introduce a splash of fun to your training.

This webinar is packed with creative ideas and techniques that will increase participation and involvement via affordable yet effective resources. New trainers will grow professional maturity from this webinar. Seasoned trainers will find a personal balance and a renewed focus on training.

Covered Topics:

- Put in place a proven model that takes your training up a notch
- Create tools that ensure training translates to learning
- Choose the most effective learning strategies for your trainees
- Reduce the dread learners have about attending training
- Tap into a champion that helps promote the value of training
- Assess what is needed to create on-target learning
 - Build training programs that engage learners
- Create value-added with all your training sessions
- Deliver training that learners rave about
- Evaluate your effectiveness as a trainer

Who Should Attend:

Anyone with responsibility for training others.

Presenter:

Honey Shelton brings the best of both worlds to her speaking and training engagements. She has 25 years of experience as a training and quality improvement consultant for banks and banking associations across the country. Her banking background includes spending three years as Executive Vice President/Chief Retail Banking Officer with First Victoria National Bank.

Nationally recognized as an outstanding speaker, over a half million bankers have participated in programs Honey has presented. Her depth of knowledge, enthusiasm, and compelling personality has left her lasting mark on InterAction Training, the firm she founded in 1983. As a graduate of the School of Bank Marketing from the University of Colorado, she realizes the value of quality education. Honey invests time as a faculty member for banking schools around the country. She is a repeat presenter for most of the state banking associations.

Honey continues in her own personal pursuit of excellence and is a member of the American Society of Training and Development (ASTD). Currently she is pursuing a self study program on Six Sigma. She has obtained certification in Reality Therapy from the William Glasser Institute as well as certification from the Training and Development Program at Texas A & M.
